THE ST. LOUIS.

She Will be Tested Under the Sub sidy Act's Provisions.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) WASHINGTON, July 2.—Commander WASHINGTON, July 2.—Commander Bradford and Lieut. Milligan are making preparations for the trial of the St. Louis to see if she will come within the terms of the subsidy act as a naval vessel. This vessel will be docked at Southampton and made ready for a swift trial. She will be given much the same trial as is given warships. She has already made the required speed, but not with officers on board to report it to the Navy Department.

The law requires that these ships must be capable of making twenty knots an hour in ordinary weather. The regulations of the department, under which Commander Bradford will act, will require the ship to make twenty knots an hour for four consecutive hours. She will be run over a course of forty knots and return.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
DALLAS (Tex.). July 2.—E. O. Sánders, formerly residing in Decatur, Tex., a few weeks ago married Miss Anna Cobb of Fort Worth, went to Mexico on a bridal tour and came to Dallas about ten days ago and took a room at Capt. McCoy's. At 2 ô'clock this morning two pistol shots were heard, but nobody could locate them. This afternoon an examination of the room occupied by Sanders and his wife revealed a horrible sight. The couple lay on the bed with their faces all swollen and black and the bed and floor deluged in blood. An examination of the bodies disclosed a bullet-hole in the right temple of each of them.

Sanders left a letter saying that the cause of his action in killing his wife and himself was that he had discovered that she did not love him, but loved another man and would bring disgrace upon his name. He therefore thought it best that both should die.

ined Relations Finally Crack The Professor Would Not Resign ing"-A Meter in the Case.

REGILAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT (REGULAR ASSOCIATION PRESS REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, July 2.—Prof. Mark
W. Harrington, chief of the Weather
Bureau, has been relieved from dutyowing to a disagreement with Secretary

Harrington's resignation. He declined to resign, and subsequently was re-moved by the President, to take effect moved by the President, to take effect on July 1. James F. Cook, chief clerk of the Weather Bureau, is acting head of the bureau until a successor is appointed. The relations between Secretary Morton and Harrington have been strained for many months, and correspondence between them has been carried on only in the most formal language.

The trouble came to a climax on June 19 with a call for the professor to resign.

The President has had the matter under advisement for some time and had been urged several times to make the formal request, but he delayed on the ground, it is thought, that Prof. Harrington should be left to settle the matter by voluntarily stepping out. After he was at Gray Gables, however, the President decided to request the resignation. Prof. Harrington replied to the President decided to request the resignation. Prof. Harrington replied to the President decided to request the resignation. Prof. Harrington was removed from the office, the removal to take effect on July 1.

On Monday morning Secretary Mornon formally designated James F. Cook, the chief clerk, to act as chief of the bureau pending the selection of a successor to Prof. Harrington. This was done under an existing statute that provides for such a contingency. Under ordinary circumstances the assistant chief of such a bureau would be designated do act, but in the present case this position is filled by Maj. H. C. Dunwoody, U. S. A., and it is doubtful if he could act as chief in the present emergency.

The greatest secreey is observed by

At the White House no positive information could be obtained. Pruden, the acting private secretary, said that he had no authority to make any statement whatever, and that until he had some authorization from the Secretary of Agriculture he could not say anything whatever.

Prof. Harrington himself said today: "On the 19th of June the President asked for my resignation because of personal interests. I declined to give it on the score of public interests, and my removal followed, to take effect July 1. The personal interests involved were discussed by me in a letter to the President, and I feel I have not received just treatment. Among the public interests which I have had steadily in view were the preservation of the scientific corps and the protection of that bureau from spoilsmen. When a scientific bureau descends to to the four-year office-holding plan it at once loses prestige and ceases to be a desirable position for competent men."

men."
Prof. Harrington was appointed from Michigan because of his long acquaintance with meteorology, he for many years having been the editor of a journal devoted to that science. He was a member of the faculty of Ann Arbor University.
It is said that, although there is some pressure for the succession to Prof.

It is said that, although there is some pressure for the succession to Prof. Harrington's position, no civilian will be appointed to that position as it has long been the desire of Secretary Morton that Maj. Dunwoody, who is thoroughly acquainted with all the details of the Weather Bureau work and in whom he had great confidence, should be placed in charge. This will require a special order from the Secretary of War, and a designation from the President, and might also necessitate the appointment and confirmation by the Senate, although it is known that Maj. Dunwoody would not relinquish his commission in the army for this preferment, which would mean no increase in pay for him.

GLENDALE (L. I.,) July 2.—This was the fourth day of the First National Schuetzenfest. The shooting was commenced at 8 o'clock. There were some excellent marksmanship displayed during the forenoon, and it looked at one time as if A. H. Pape of San Francisco, who only began to shoot this morning, would get the possible 50 at the standard target. He got four centers which counted 40, but on the fifth and last try he only scored 7, making a total of 47. Shortly afterwards F. C. Ross of Brooklyn succeeded in equalling this score, and they were the highest of the day in that event. The ties in this contest will have to be decided by the next best card as the men can buy as many cards as they desire Pape made 93 out of a possible 100 at the man target, but Pope of Hartford and Dorrler of Greenville, N. J., scored 95 and 94 respectively.

At the ring target, F. Cross of Brooklyn had 72 marked up to his name out of a possible 75. W. B. Baab of New York secured the first red flag and A. Blodau of San Francisco the last one of the day for making first and last bullseye. During the afternoon the shooters were continually arriving and buying tickets for the several contests.

Adolph Strecker of San Francisco has als eye on the King's gold medal. When he left off shooting this afternoon he had fired 157 shots and only missed the had fired 157 shots and only missed the "black" twice. It was impossible to get the scores in the Columbia, Ger-mania, man and ring targets tonight, but it was announced that fifty-nine silver and eleven gold medals, as well as five silver festival cups, had been awarded to the successful men in the point target contest, who made 25, 109 and 300 points.

Five years ago he made the acquaintance of Fannie Johnson, the youngest daughter of a respectable family. She was then employed as a book-keeper in a dry goods house. He kept company with her and represented that his wife had but a year or so to live and that he intended to marry her as soon as he could decently do so, and if she lived he would get a divorce. The result of this intimacy was a girl child, born about three and a half years ago. Wheelock anticipated this by removing Fannie to New York. He established her in fine apartments and spent the time between the two establishments. Another child was born to them and Wheelock sent the three to Europe. Wheelock sent the three to Europe.

He put her off time and again, and yesterday she came to this city, prepared to do anything desperate. She took a closed carriage and drove to Wheelock's house. He was found wheeling toward the park on a bloycle. The driver started after him. Wheelock looked around and saw Miss Johnson's pretty blonde head sticking out of the carriage window. He bent over the pedals and made for the park. Before he got a good start the carriage was at his hind wheel and the driver forced him to the curb. There the carriage stopped and Miss Johnson, excited and angry, sprang at him. She took the trembling Wheelock by the arm and shoved him into the carriage, telling the driver to go to police headquarters.

Wheelock demurred and their interview was stormy. The driver, hearing the dispute and cries from the woman, despended from the box and found Wheelock kneeling on Miss Johnson and his fingers tightly fastened on her throat. She was choking and making terrible struggles to get away. The driver rapped Wheelock heavily on the chin and Wheelock fell back on the seat and Miss Johnson got up. The conversation continued at a lively rate. When near the Circle, Wheelock suddenly jumped out of the carriage and ran up the street. Miss Johnson proceeded to his house, where she told her story to Mrs. Wheelock. She was ordered out of the house and a policeman called. When Wheelock returned to the house he called more policemen, and Miss Johnson was persuaded to leave. She went to the house today concerning the orders under which he was relieved from the command of the Alert on the Pacific station. The affair grew out of a visit paid by Admiral Meade to Panama during the southern cruise last spring. He claimed that Commander Ide met him and Assistant Secretary McAdoo in a hotel and failed to salute him. Commander Ide claims that he did salute. It is understood that McAdoo substantiated the report of the admiral. Ide was relieved and the Alert was sent from Panama to Callao, Peru, to relieve the Monterey under command of her executive officer. Lieut. J. H. C. Coffin. OFFICE-HOLDERS' PLEA.

The County Government Act Cited

(RECULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—It is the opinion of the numerous San Francisco office-holders that the new County Government Act applies to San Francisco as well as to other parts of the State, and they are preparing to hold onto their offices for four years instead of two years, for which everybody supposed they were elected. Sheriff Whelan believed that he was elected for four years, and hints that if any attempt is made to oust him he will take the matter into the courts.

The County Government Act prayldes that all county officers except supervisors shall be elected every four years. The San Francisco election was held under the provisions of the Consolidation Act, which provides that the term of office shall be two years in San Francisco. It is the opinion of the local officers that the new law repealed conflicting sections of the Consolidation Act, and they were therefore elected for four years.

the impassable rampart that faced all great measures.

He had never tasted the sweets of place with power, but his experience of place without power was a purgatory if not a hell. The great feature of the situation, he said, was the final disappearance of so-called Liberals who opposed Liberal measures. The Conservative party had absorbed the Liberal-Unionists. Henceforth there would be only two great parties, the Tories and the Liberals.

The lesson to be learned was the necessity for concentration. If they only obtained a small majority they must be content with small things. The subject upon which they must concentrate was the House of Lords. Personally he would fight the election on that. That did not mean abandonment of other reforms, but they must deal with one thing at a time.

One highwayman took a hasty sho at Conductor Kearney who was in charge of the train, but no damage resulted. Superintendent Fields of the Southern Pacific lost no time and in an hour after learning of the hold-up had two parties on the way to the scene of the robberry. A rosse of officers was the robbery. A posse of officers was hastily made up in Roseburg and started at once and another of rough-and-ready mountaineers started from here. Every effort will be made to cap-here. Every effort will be made to capture the pobers.

The men of the party starting from here are thoroughly familiar with every foot of ground in the neighborhood of the robbery and pretty, good hopes are entertained of capturing the robbers. The train was delayed for several hours, having, been compelled to turn the engine around and go into burg backward.

As soon as the cause of the stoppage the train was known, passengers be n hiding money and valuables rowing them under the seats, in the nat-racks and stuffing them into their nat-racks and stuming them into their boots and shoes, many afterward dig-ging up their treasure and giving it up at the robber's request. All of the pas-sengers contributed more or less cash from $3 to $55. One man in the Pull-man car gave $400 and another in the from $3 to $55. One man in the Pullman car gave $400 and another in the smoker $90.

A bridal couple in the day-coach rom Gold Hill, on the way to Portland to spend their honeymoon, were the list passengers held up and all their money was taken. Both sat with ands up for about an hour after the obbers left the car. Miss Johnston, a eacher from Klamath county, returning home to Roseburg, offered the rober a small purse containing about $2. the was not taken. The total booty, inituding registered mail, is variously esimated at from $2000 to $4000.

R. E. Smith, special agent at Phoenix if the Hartford insurance Company of an Francisco, with two friends, was in the Pullman smoking-room when they eard the first bomb. They looked out if the window and were told by a rober with many oaths to pull their heads aside, whereupon they piled over each their in the middle of the room to get way from the shots. They told the ullman conductor that the train was eld up. Soon afterward they ran to helr berths and rolled in. After a long uspense a robber with the engineer, rman, expressman, porter and a tramp ame along and told the occupants to dig up," but did not search anyone in mith's presence, and as all had had heaty of time to get calm and hide helr gold, only a few gave the most all of their treasure. Smith threw is money under the berth except a few ollars in silver, which he gave up, sclaring that it was all he had.

The robber asked the porter at every erth: "Lady or gent?" The lower erths only were inspected, and the laces were not disturbed. A Berkeley udent sound asleep in the Pullman new nothing of the hold-up until inched in the ribs with a pistol and lid to "dig up," as the robber did not ant to "spoil the bed-linen." The udent gave up everything, including a sold watch.

punched in the ribs with a pistol and told to "dig up," as the robber did not want to "spoil the bed-linen." The student gave up everything, including his gold watch.

Smith estimates the booty at about 2000. He says the robber was tall and wore a white hat, with a white mask hanging well down on his breast, the large opening at the mouth exposing part of the chin, which appeared as having been recently shaved. He had blue overalls, and looked like a laborer. He laughed and talked with the passengers while taking their money and valuables.

Stilly Riddle, who lives near Riddles, has arrived in town, and states that three men who have been working for some time at Nichols Station, thirteen miles south of Riddles and a short distance south of the point where the robbery occurred, disappeared yesterday, One of the men usually wore a white hat with a buckskin band which corresponds with the white hat worn by the robber who went through the coaches, and which was today, found near the scene of the hold-up. The indications are that these men are the robbers. They are thought to be hidden in a cave near the scene of the hold-up. R. M. Donahue, messenger for Wells, Parge & Co., told the following story of the robbery:

Fargo & Co., told the following story of the robbery:

"As soon as I heard the explosion and felt the train slow up, I knew that a robbery had obcurred. The leader of the gang took the engineer and fireman, and, coming to the express, car, ordered me to open the door. I refused, and took the money packages in the local express-box and hid them under a box of goods. The robber finally threatened to blow me to pleces, when the fireman asked me to open the door. I did so and the fellow jumped in and told me to throw up my hands, at the same time pointing a pistol at me. Then ne told the engineer and fireman to come inside, which they did.

Postal Agent Herman said that the first intimation that he had of the robbers was the loud explosion.

"I knew what was coming," he said, "and I stepped down from my bunk. I had five registered packages and hid two of them. I knew that I could not hide all for the robbers would make medig up. I then hid other mail-matter and some registered letters, scattering them all around the car. After that I crawled back into my bunk.

"Very soon the robber knocked at the door and I got up and opened it. He said that he wanted me to produce the registered pouches. I told him I had only three. He then put the pistol to my head and made me cut the pouches open, which I did. I threw the letters and packages down when he directed me; he then opened them, taking out bills, silver and gold. I should think that he got at least $1000 in all. He then made me dig up some more registered letters. He did not find the two puches which I had hidden."

Nelson Bennett, proprietor of the Tacoma Ledger, was one of the passengers. The robbers suffered him to pass with the loss of $7.50.

"I got off rather lucky," said Bennett. "They came through our car and the man who was carrying the sack approached me and sized me up pretty thoroughly. I saw I would have to begin to hunt up my spare change. I felt in my pockets for silver and pulled out a few dollars. The robber was in a hurry, and he seemed to think I would have a hard ting to satisfy him, because he said, "Well, you're a poor devil. Here is $2 for you to eat on a while; I'll keep the rest." Then he passed on and despite the excitement some of the passengers had the laugh on me.

"There was one old lady on board who had her wits about her. Realizing what was coming she asked a man across the aisle for the loan of a few dollars in silver. The man gave her $4. The robbers took every cent she had. Afterward the old lady repaid the loan and explained that she had nothing but and explained that she had nothing but gold on her person, and she was afraid they would ask her for that."

A detailed statement of the losses of passengers furnished to Superintendent Fields shows that the personal losses aggregate $520. The list includes two gold watches and a revolver. SOUTHERN PACIFIC DETECTIVES ISSUE FORTH.

PORTLAND (Or.,) July 2.—The Southern Pacific officials here say that they ern Pacino officials here say that they have not yet received any of the particulars of last night's hold-up near Rid dles. The train which was held up wil not arrive here before 1 o'clock this af ternoon. Immediately upon the receip ternoon. Immediately upon the receipt of the news here, the company sent three detectives to the scene. These, with the posses that went out from Roseburg and Grant's Pass, make a force of about thirty men in pursuit of the robbers. The country is very wild and rugged and the prospects of the capture of the bandits are not very favorable.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Indications Point to Its Completio by British Capital.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. — Hugh Craig, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, says that from a thorough investigation of the subject he is convinced that the Pacific cable, which has been talked about for years on this side of the United States, and disthis side of the United States, and discussed ad interim in Congress, is to be built by British capitalists. To the statement that Englishmen and Australians with Canadians have decided to undertake the work, he adds the fugther fact that the difficulty of obtaining a midocean station has been overcome.

Rev. Anna Shaw Announces Her Preference for Californians.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. — When Rev. Anna H. Shaw returns to Boston with Susan B. Anthony, 'two weeks hence, she will take with her memorles of California more delightful than its far-famed climate. She has surrendered to the California men.

"I must say that I am in love with California and with the men of California," said she. "In no place where I have been have I seen such open-heartedness," such candor, such generosity as I have seen in the men of this State. Many of them have come to me and have told me that our arguments have caused them to change their minds. Fancy that, a man acknowledging to a woman that she had converted him. But this is the way here, as we have found it. Everybody speaks his mind and a liberality exists that overshadows that of any other State we have visited. San Francisco is generous to many faults, and the press of the whole State is liberal to a marked degree. Our visit has taught us much, and we shall profit by it." SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. - When

They say that for some time past the Russian government has been receiving telegrams that there was cholera, or at least indications of it, at Nagaski, Yokohama and other points close to the Russian possessions. These two have been sent to Vladivostock to make a study of the conditions there. Dr. Tsomisnoff was asked as to the reports received from Tacoma that 80,000 Russian soldiers were massed at Vladivostock, and that the harbor was set with torpedies, with other indications of trouble between Russia and Japan.

It is true that there are sany warships there, too, and it is rue that there are torpedges in the

Although the Russians say that cholera is prevalent in Japan, the presence of that disease has not yet been reported here.

MADERA COUNTY BANDITS Cliff Regan's Gang Stealing Many Cattle and Horses.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
FRESNO, July 2.—Cliff Regan, the young Madera-county outlaw, at the head of a gang of four has begun operations on a larger scale than ever. Many cattle have been stolen from ranchers among the hills. They made a raid into Fresno county within fifteen miles of this city and stole fifteen horses belonging to Constable Irving of Sanger, and crossed the Sierra Nevada Mountains with them to Mono county and there sold them.

Two of Regan's companions are unknown, but the third is a Mexican named Juan Valdiaz, who is wanted for murder and for whom there is a reward of $1500. Regan is 25 years old and has served two terms in the penitentiary. Sheriff Westfall of Madera county and Sheriff Scott and Hi Rappelje of this county will soon go into the hills to capture the gang or drive them from the country. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

THAT GRAND JURY.

The Supervisors Considering Action Against it for Libel.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SACRAMENTO, July 2.—The grand jury report submitted last Friday afternoon severely censured the members of the Board of Supervisors of this county. The jury accused the board of having been reckless in the expenditure of county funds. Now the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, J. M. Morrison, is getting legal advice as to the rights of citizens against the assaults upon their reputations by the grand jurors.

Morrison believes that grand jurors should be held as responsible for slander and libel as private citizens, and if he is so advised he will bring the matter before the Superior Court for adjudication. He thinks that Foreman Larue of the late grand jury is just a little bit finconsistent in his reforms. He says that Larue tried to get the board to appropriate $500 last winter to entertain the American Pomological Society. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

Naval Experts. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The naval board appointed to inspect the cruiser Olympia has completed its task and forwarded its report to Washington. The Olympia was taken to sea for a cruise of forty-eight hours. Further tests were made in port after her return from the trial trip.

While declining to anticipate their report to the Secretary of the Navy, members of the naval board admitted to an Associated Press reporter that the report was "favorable to the cruiser. They stated that the Olympia is perfectly seaworthy and in construction quite up to the specifications in every respect. Her machinery worked satisfactorily and the other tests resulted in the approval of the entire board.

LOCATED THE HIGH SCHOOL. End of a Squabble Which Has Beer Agitating Fresno.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
FRESNO, July 2.—The fight which has been going on in this city for more than a year over the location of the new high school was ended today by the conveyance to the district of the property known as the Terry Block, a portion of the estate of the late Judge Terry. The attempt to purchase this property was first made nearly a year ago, but a multiplicity of defects in the title and proceedings to purchase has kept the purchase in abeyance and delayed the construction of the building. A majority of the people desired to have the building located on property already owned by the district, but there is a general feeling of thankfulness that the question is settled. The high-school building will be one of the finest in the interior. (REGITAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT)

Conching Party Overturned on

Mountain-side. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CAZADERO, July 2.—Ex-Congressman Joy of Missouri and his bride had a narrow escape from death near here yesterday. While driving with a coaching party of twelve on a steep mountain road, a precipice on one side, the coach overturned. Fortunately it fell toward the mountain instead of over the edge of the road.

The bravery of the driver, who jumped between the struggling horses, saved the party from being dragged to death or hurled into the gorge below. Only one person was badly hurt, Mrs. Tompkins had her hip dislocated and was injured internally.

Celebrations at Phoenix.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) July 2.—Prescott's six days of carnival and Fourth of July celebration has been even a greater success during the first two days than was anticipated. Visitors are here from California, Colorado, New Mexico and all over Arizona. The programme embraces horse races, hose races, foot races, bicycle races, gun-shooting and baseball. Liberal prizes are being offered in all events. The most exciting days will be July 3, 4 and 5. The flose race on the Fourth is for a $900 purse and the championship of Arizona.

SAN RAFAEL, July 2.—The remains of the Chinese flahermen who were drowned at El Campo on June 24 by the upsetting of their boat, were recovered today near California City. Coroner Edden held an Inquest, the verdict being accidental drowning.

There was much interest in the decision of the stewards over the Wernberg race of yesterday, and after the third race it was announced that Jockey Overton had been suspended, and recommended to the Jockey Club for a revocation of his license.

The Long Island handicap was the best race of the meeting. The horses got the flag together in fine shape, with Peacemaker and Redskin as pacemakers, and the others bunched close behind. indicates that the winner of the Oxford-Cambridge games would accept the challenge if the games could be arranged for September.

Later it became apparent that without exception the Oxford and Cambridge athletes are opposed to combining their teams to meet Yale alone, President Horan, discussing the Yale captain's message during the afternoon, said: "The issuing of the challenge was regarded as a purely international affair, but Harvard and Yale were named because they are the two representative universities. If we had referred the challenge only in its international significance, we might have made up a team from Trinity College, Dublin, and other leading universities of Great Britain, as well as Oxford and Cambridge. Oxford defeated Yale in 1894 and why should Yale now feel capable of defeating a team from Oxford and Cambridge combined?"

It was the feeling of the members present that if Yale defeats Oxford in the coming intercollegiate games and Yale will then challenge Combridge, Cambridge will accept. The Committee on College Athletics then called a meeting to consider Harvard's answer and came to the same conclusion as that arrived at by Cambridge, Horan and Oakley exchanged views this evening on the subject of their reply to the challenge of Oxford and Cambridge and came to the conclusion that Oxford and Cambridge could not meet Yale alone. Cambridge alone is extremely anxious to meet Yale.

ir William Vernon Harcourt Re He Claims Depression Was Greater Some Time Ago.

DENVER, July 2.—Just thirty per-sons were assembled at East Turner Hall at 10 o'clock, the time set for the Democratic mass convention for the consideration of the financial question. Chairman Frank Arbuckle of the State Central Committee, who called the Central Committee, who called the meeting at the request of the committee, was not present, but had sent an address, discouraging radical action, to be read by the secretary, Olney Newell. It was claimed that the small attendance was due to a misunder-standing of the time at which the meeting was to be held, and it was confidently predicted that the after-noon session would bring out a large crowd.

At 10:40 o'clock Secretary Newell of the State Committee called the meeting to order, about fifty persons being present. Newell, in his opening address, suggested that the present financial policy of the government accounted in a measure for the fact that the leading Democrats of the State had sent letters instead of attending the meeting. He spoke in severe terms of the action of certain office-holders in trying to prevent the present meeting, lest something might be said to hurt their political chances. He then read the address of Chairman Arbuckle, which was received without demonstration.

tion. Chairman Arbuckle's address was as follows: "Democrats of Colorado: By direction lected, after which the meeting adjourned till 3 o'clock.

The attendance at the afternoon session was somewhat larger than that of the morning. Immediately upon reassembling the Resolutions Committee reported their planks, which were adopted without dissent or discussion. The resolutions reaffirm the devotion of the Colorado Democrats to the principles of Jefferson and Jackson, among which is the belief in an honest, stable and sound currency, the basis of which shall be gold and silver, both metals being admitted to the mints for free and unlimited coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. They then declare for the free and unlimited coinage of cilver at 16 to 1 with or without international agreement and call upon every citizen of the State to rally to silver's standard until justice shall prevail.

In conclusions the resolutions expressly dissent from the financial policy of the present administration and express opposition to the Saue of interest-bearing bonds in times of peace. The call of the Democracy of Illinois for a national Democratic convention to consider the currency question is seconded.

Thomas J. O'Donnell of Denver was called for, and responded in a short address, in which he predicted that the next Democratic convention would declare for free silver. He denounced the present administration for following, as he claimed, the policy of John Sherman. Addresses by Judge Yeaman and ex-Gov. Adams followed.

The following delegates to the Democratic bimetallic convention to be held at Washington on August 14 were chosen: Charles S. Thomas, T. J. O'Donnell, Alva Adams, John A. Gordon, J. E. Miere, J. M. Ellis, J. W. Bernes, E. L. Coates, Charles O. United States on the silver question, after which the meeting adjourned.

HARCOURT TO THE BIMETALLISTS.

LONDON, July 2.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Sir William Vernon Harcourt, exChancellor of the Exchequer, has written a letter in reply to the memorial of the Bimetallic League, in which he says:

the Bimetallic League, in which he says:

"I do not share in the opinion expressed in your memorial, but this is not a fitting time to enter into an argument on the subject. I only venture upon one observation. The memoria refers to the depreciation of property and the depression of industry, particularly agriculture, and attributes all the evils to the action of France is abandoning the bimetallic system which, while it existed, you considers to have secured to the rest of the worl the advantages which you believ flowed from that system.

years 1815 to 1845, when the evils to which your memorial refers existed in a far more aggravated form than now. If you compare the condition of the people of your town or agricultural district of that epoch with their condition now you will find that the wages and employment of the working classes contrast most unfavorably during your bimetallic elysium with their situation in these monometallic days which you deplore."

TOKIO, June 21.—(Wired from Viotoria July 2.) The anti-missionary riots in the Sze-Chuen province occupy the exclusive attention of foreigners in China. Many deaths are reported, ohiefly among native Roman Catholica, and the loss of property is estimated at $5,000,000 in the city of Cheng-Tu alone. The French mission at that place was established 150 years ago and claimed 30,000 converts. The four Protestant institutions were of modern origin. All have been destroyed and their occupants, including several ladies, are said to be in extreme danger, though the authorities of Feking declare that measures will be taken for their protection.

chairman Arbuckle's address was as collows:

"Democrats of Colorado: By direction of a large majority of your State Central Committee, you have been called together in mass-convention for the purpose of considering the financial questions.

"When the agitation favoring a State Committee, was directly instigated by the Sze-Chuen proposition was started, I as State Chairman, remorated State Committee, strongly advising against a convention being held at this time for reasons therein stated. But, being a thorough believer in party discipline and majority rule, your wheles have been complied with.

THE CHINESE LOAN.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 2.—The following is the actual state of the negotiations concerning the Chinese loan.

Russia, on her side, has agreed to grant certain modifications of a nature to soothe the susceptibilities and amour propre of the Chinese in the form of a convention. China on the other hand has not given any refusal, but has simply resorted to delays, to which the government at Peking has at last been firmly requested to put at an end. THE CHINESE LOAN.

The reply, one way or the other, which Russia demands is expected immediately. It is anticipated here that China will more likely accept than re-China will more likely accept than re-fuse.

A Chinese loan is about to be issued in London for a large amount, inde-pendent of the negotiations for the Chinese loan made from St. Petersburg and elsewhere.

The loan referred to as about to be issued here is £1,000,000 at 6 per cent. It would be floated at 106.

CAMPOS ANTAGONIZES THE MASONS.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A special to a local paper from Havana says that Capt.—Gen. Martinez Campos, acting on the supposition that the people of Havana are secretly in sympathy with the revolutionists, issued a general order when he first came here, prohibiting private meetings under severe penalties.

Not even the Masons were exempted, but powerful influence was brought to bear upon him in their behalf and he at length agreed to modify the decree so that it would not affect them. The Grand Lodge of the Island of Cuba, situated in this city, was overjoyed at this and the Masons showed their gratitude to Campos in many ways.

All this jey, however, was shortlived, for the captain-general issued another order specifically prohibiting meetings of Masonic lodges and as a result trouble is feared in many quarters.

said that the hospitals are filled with Spanish soldiers who are suffering from yellow fever.

"We have more men than we need for fighting purposes," continued Buneo. "The Cubans all over the island sympathize with the revolutionists. In the last war the Spanish troops used to chase us around from place to place; now it is the reverse; we have to look for them, for they are not inclined to show much fighting. The Spanish troops are already somewhat demoralized. In the province of St. Jago alone there are about 12,000 revolutionists. It is not men, but arms and ammunition that are needed.

"While it is undoubtedly true that Jose Marti is dead, the report circulated by the Spanish officials that Gen. Maximo Gomez has been wounded, is utterly false."

While in the bush Buneo was taken ill and hashas come to this country for rest and the benefit of his health.

TO BE INVESTIGATED.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Dowle's institu-tion in this city will undergo another investigation at the hands of the coroner today. Last night shortly before from the house and put in a wagon. He followed the wagon to the undertaker's and then notified the police of what he had seen. Sergt. Mullen was sent to the undertaking establishment, but that officer's authority was not sufficient to bring out anything concerning the body except that it was to be shipped east in the morning and that Dr. Spiecher. Dowle's assistant, had issued a certificate which the undertaker considered sufficient authority for removing the body.

Inspector Hull was notified of the case and gave it his personal attention. He succeeded no better in obtaining information than had Mullen, and he notified Corroner McHale of the facts. The Coroner ordered the preparations for shipment to cease and said he would investigate. Dr. Spiecher said the body was that of Mrs. Bunk of Berlin. Canada. He said heart disease had caused her death and claimed to have the authority from the Department of Health to issue certificates of death, denying that there was anything irregular in the case. It was stated that the body was taken from the home at such a late hour because it was not decided until late in the evening what disposition to make of it.

A bill has been filed in the Superior Court for an injunction to restrain Dr. Dowle from maintaining hospitals or "divine healing homes" and his tabernacle. The court is asked to decree that the tabernacle and hospitals constitute a public nutsance which ought to be abolished. The complainants are L. J. McGuire and Mrs. Mary Thomas, whe live near Dowle's "home."

A SPECIAL FEATURE.

A SPECIAL FEATURE.

The patriotic exercises of the Fourth will be appropriately inaugurated on the evening of the 3d in an entertainment to be given at the Los Angeles Theater by Miss Adelaide Detchon, the celebrated lyric artist. She will sing in costume "The Star-spangled Banner," and also recite James G. Percival's noble ode, "The Eagle." The Executive Committee takes pleasure in commending this very unique entertainment to all patriotic citizens.

A REHEARSAL.

The grand chorus for Dvorak's cantata, "The American Flag," to be sung on the Fourth, held a rehearsal last evening at Hazard's Pavilion. As usual, there is dissension between the conductor and orchestra, and there is a possibility that the accompaniment on the great occasion will be given by three planos. The final rehearsal takes place at 7 o'clock this evening.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, Los Angeles, July 2, 1895. FINANCIAL NOTES. The Los Angeles bank clearances today are as fol-lows: Exchanges, $235,375. 67; balances,

The sixth semi-annual interest con pon of the 7-per cent. gold bonds of the Mt. Lowe Railway Company, which matured July 1, are now payable. The bonds are those issued by the Passa-dena and Mt. Wilson Railway Company.

The half-yearly interest on Los Angeles city street-improvement bonds became definquent July 1.

VENTURA COUNTY SCHOOL BONDS. The Supervisors of Ventura county will offer for sale today bonds of Pleasant Valley school district. The bonds are nine of $1000 denomination, eight of $500, interest payable annually at 7 per cent.

VENTURA COUNTY 5-PER CENT.
BONDS. On July 9 an election will be held at San Buena Ventura, Ventura county, for the purpose of voting on the issuance of $130,800 5-per cent. bonds, forty-year serials, interest payable half-yearly at the Chemical National Bank, New York. Of the total amount to be issued $106,500 is to be devoted to the purchase of city ownership- of water, and $23,500 to the erection of an electric-lighting system for the city.

THE BANK OF FULLERTON. The Fruit-growers' Bank at Fullerton, Cal., was organized in that city this afternoon. The following directors were elected: W. B. Wilshire, Jacob Stern, A. McDermont, H. C. Wilshire, L. C. MoNight, B. C. Balcom, Paul Seeger, Edwin Barr, J. F. Davis. The directors elected the following officers: B. C. Balcom, president; Paul Seeger, vice-president; E. R. Amerige, secretary.

BEET-SUGAR CROP. The soil in many parts of Southern California has been shown by crops produced to be admirably adapted to the growth of the sugar beet. Comparisons made show that the yield of sugar in pounds the sugar beet. Comparisons made show that the yield of sugar in pounds to the acre is in the ratio of, 3 for Southern California to 2 for Alameda and Santa Clara counties. The difference is a very important one, the more so that beet sugar is entering more largely each year into the world's consumption.

The entire sugar production of the world last year has been figured up at 7,600,000 short tons. Of this 4,800,000 tons were made from beets, and only 2,800,000 tons from cane. By far the greater portion of this beet product was made in Europe; that which was manufactured in the United States representing but a small per centage of the total. This is the important feature of it in connection with Southern California. Its soil and climate are better adapted to the growth of the sugar beet than are any part of Germany or France, and it is in those two countries that the greatest quantity of sugar is made. That being admitted there is no apparent reason why beet sugar cannot be made as cheaply, if not more cheaply, in Southern California than in Europe, and yet pay a handsome return on the capital invested. The larger percentage of sugar in the beet grown here and the larger yield to the acre would compensate for any increased cost in manufacture. Sugar must always be one of the greatest, if not the very greatest—wheat alone, perhaps, excepted—staple commodity of the world. This year the sugar-beet crop in Europe is reported in a backward condition, and the yield of sugar there will probably be reduced. When in connection with that is taken the other fact that the canesugar crop of Cuba will also be much reduced on account of the insurrection there, there is every chance that sugar will be higher than it is at present.

CALIFORNIA WINES. At an auction sale of California wines in New will be higher than it is at present.

CALIFORNIA WINES. At an auction sale of California wines in New York last week it was once more shown that there is always a demand at fair prices for 'a good article, but not so for wines of indifferent quality. The California wine-maker is slowly acquiring knowledge of that fact. When he fully realizes it he will, in his own interest, be careful to see that he makes only an article for which there is demand and not load his cellars up with inferior goods which he can only dispose of by forcing the market. At present, eastern buyers are pretty well stocked up with both sweet and dry wines.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

THE PRESENT SITUATION. The feeling which pervades all business circles that the country has entered on another era of prosperity is shared in by Dun's Review (New York), one of the most conservative publications in the country. In its last number it says: "He who sees a setback in business at this time must be gazing through a telescope pointed by mistake at some other country. From all parts of the United States the best advices obtainable tell of a rising tide of trade and industry, but which here and there threatens to mount too far and too fast." The volume of all business, it adds, is not yet equal to that of 1892 though in some important branches it is larger than that of any other year. GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

RAILROAD EARNINGS. Last month, June, shows a substantial increase in railroad earnings over June of last year. The increase will, judging from the figures already published, amount to over 10 per cent.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING. Californians are not partial to diversified farming. They prefer big things, "making a spoon or spoiling a horn." The Irrigation Age, an excellent publication, and devoted to the interests of the Western and Pacific Coast States, has an article in its Coast number entitled "California's Mistaken Policy." the substance of which is here given for the benefit of those who may be of that way of thinking. But the Irrigation Age should call to mind the fact that Californians are not growling, they are not complaining over their lot. They have done well in the pagt and they do not propose to be an illustration of the well-known fable of the "Man and the Ass." They are not going to try and please everybody, including the Irrigation Age. They are going to please themselves. They do not want to run the whole four zones into one, as diversified farmers would have them believe they should do. But here is the article: "Californians are feeling fairly cheerversified farmers would have them believe they should do. But here is the article:

"Californians are feeling fairly cheerful this season. The freezing of the Florida orange crop created a good demand for the California product (the demand would have been good, anyway—Ed.), and the destruction of deciduous fruits and grapes throughout the northern fruit belt from Illinois to New York promises to confer additional benefits. But the fact that such unfortunate accidents as these are necessary to make good prices set the Californians to thinking. Is it not time for them to stop increasing the production of things which they now export largely, and begin to increase the production of things which they largely import? The scheme of the diversified farm, which aims first at the production of what each family consumes, and then of a surplus adjusted to the demands of a local market, and figures last of all upon producing what must be sent to distant markets, bearing heavy transportation charges, is just as well switch to California conditions there can be no question that farms organized upon this theory will be far more prosperous in the long run than those which are planted to a single class of crops. Those who went exclusively into the raisin crop have already learned this lesson. In time the lesson will be taught to those who confine themselves to other branches of horticulture. The fact is, that competitors of the California fruit industry are growing up in half a dozen States which are nearer the great markets and offer cheaper land and better railroad facilities. There is probably no place in the world where a fairly industrious man can get so good a living for so little work as in California, but it is not to be obtained in the long run by dependence on the single crop."

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, July 2.—Renewed efforts were made today to depress values on the Stock Exchange by circulating rumors of prospective gold shipments. It is true that a bapking-house which does business with Cuba expects to send some French gold to Paris, which has been received here in transit from Havana, but this transaction is a purely commercial affair in the ordinary course of business and entirely disconnected with the gold-export movement. There appears to be no other foundation for the stories about gold shipments. It is not likely that any long stock was sold on the strength of them. The short interest, altarmed at the confident tone of yesterday's late trading, went into the market this morning to cover their short contracts, and the commission-houses had numerous buying orders. These incidents advanced prices in the early dealings, the gains ranging up to 14, per cent, the latter in American Tobacco. Toward midday realisations set in, due to the approaching holiday, and the tendency throughout the afternoon was lower, the decline extending to 2 per cent. The market closed weak, with most prices lower than at yeaterday's close. Bonds were quiet and firm. The sales were 1,563,000. Atchison. 94 N. W. 97%. Adams Express. 148 N. W. pfd. 1444. Alton, T. Mrs. Abbott's Yellow-dog Case Dismissed-Petty Offenders. In the Police Court yesterday, the charge of petit larceny preferred against Police Officer Miles Long and H. G. Wilcox by Mrs. Merced Abbott, was dismissed after a full hearing of all the testimony. The whole trouble arose over a misunderstanding as to the ownership of a vellow dog which the ownership of a yellow dog which had been cared for by Mrs. Abbott for some time and which Wilcox and Officer Long were requested to recover for the rightful owner. Mrs. Abbott wanted them to pay the canine's board bill which amounted to 35 cents; they refused and she accordingly had them arrested on the charge of stealing the dog, but as she could not prove that she owned the animal, the complaint

she owned the animal, the complaint was dismissed.

Edward Fairchild was found gullty of the crime of purioning a dozen hens which he tried to sell at a bargain. He will be sentenced today.

Wing Sing was arraigned for malicious mischief on a complaint sworn to by J. H. Brenner, of the Southern Callfornia Music Company, charging the celestial with breaking a buggy belonging to the said company for which they asked $20 damages. Wing offered to settle for $15, and the complaining witness accepted the proposition and moved for a dismissal of the case, but Justice Morrison objected to the use of his court as a collection agency, so Wing will have to stand trial.

Pat Morrison got a $15 fine for disturbing the peace and Pat O'Hara was assessed $10 for a similar offense.

Chew Pack and his pack of friends proved themselves more expert swearers than Officer Matuszkiewiz, so Chew was acquitted of the charge of disturbing the Chinatown policeman's peace.

POSTOFFICE BUSINESS. The Department in Los Angeles Making Clear Profit.

Postmaster Van Dusen of the Los Angeles postoffice sent on July 1 to the Postmaster-General, Washington, $3584.24, which sum represented the quarterly remittance from Los Angeles postoffice, after deducting all salaries and other office expenses, also all railway-mail service expenses payable at this office. The amount paid out on account of the latter will be refunded to the Los Angeles office as the railway-mail service expenses are not a charge on it. The amount remitted as above stated does not, therefore, represent the full amount of profit accruing to the postal department from the Los Angeles office.

In connection with this Postmaster Van Dusen, speaking of the business of the office, yesterday said that the money-order business for July 1—which should be a dull day—was the heavlest in the history of Los Angeles post-office. ing Clear Profit.

The Northwestern Improvement A

Improvement Association.

The Northwestern Improvement Association, an organization whose aim is to work for the good of the Second ward, held its semi-annual election last evening in the association hall, corner Montreal and Bellevue avenue, with President J. A. Craig in the chair.

The first important business was the reports of committees. Thomas Kelly, chairman of the Committee on Parks and Boulevards, presented a report which embodied a suggestion to the Park Commissioners that public baths be constructed in Echo Park Lake, where there is a good supply of flowing water. A portion of the present-muddy bottom can be graveled or covered with plank flooring, bath-houses erected and fitted up, and all this at but little cost. Moreover these baths would soon pay for themselves.

The School Committee, through its chairman, Mr. Slaughter, introduced a resolution urging the school board to purchase land at once to extend the Alpine and Sand-street school yards, The other committees had little or nothing to report.

The next business was the election of officers. Upon Mr. Craig's refusal to accept re-election, since he had twice before held the honor, Thomas Kelly was chosen president; J. Mills Davis was re-elected secretary. The other officers are: First vice-president, J. L. Slaughter; second vice-president, J. L. Slaughter; second vice-president, J. L. Slaughter; Financial Committee, Messrs. Bouttier, Craig and Scriver; Membership Committee, Messrs. Thomas, Lacy, and Galbreth. The election of assistant secretary and chairmen of subcommittees was postponed one week.

The reception to Prof. P. W. Search

The reception to Prof. P. W. Search is to be a popular demonstration, for which no invitations will be issued, all being invited. The following note explains itself:

"Prof. P. W. Search: Yours of July 1 is at hand, and we are gratified to know that you will accept. We beg to set the evening of July 5 as the time for the reception. We shall request the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to rent us the exhibit hall and hope, tomorrow, to be able to announce to the public that the reception will take place there. Very truly yours. "CITIZENS COMMITTEE."

Miss Dickey explained that she had for years wished she were a man. The impulse to see the world as a man grew upon her to such an extent that she finally decided to leave home. She secreted a suit of her brother's clothes, and on March 24 she slipped quietly into the shed and put on the masculine attire. Then she walked calmly out of the yard in front of her home to the road leading to Klamensi Station on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. She followed the tracks for miles without meeting anyone. Then the women came in sight, and for fear of detection she turned aside into a field and made her way to Newark, where she took the train for Baltimore, in which city her experiences have taken away all desire to be a man.

Perhaps that would be the most effectual way to put an end to the "equal rights" fad.

By holding back the payment of various items of current expenses, the Secretary of the Treasury has, apparently, kept the deficit down to a little less than $43,000,000 for the fiscal year just ended. [James Gates Percival's immortal ode, "The Eagle," which is reproduced below, will be recited at the Los Angeles Theater tonight by Miss Adelaide Detchon, the gifted lyric artist, surrounded with appropriate accessories. This poem was first published about 1827. Percival was born in Connecticut and died in Misconsin. He was a poet of renown and a scholar of distinction, but if he had never written another line save his grand apostrophe to the typical Bird of Freedom, he would deserve immortality.—ED. Times.]

Bird of the broad and sweeping wing, Thy home is high in heaven, Where wide the storms their banners fling, And the tempest clouds are driven; Thy throne is on the mountain-top, Thy fields, the boundless air; And hoary peaks, that proudly prop The skies, thy dwellings are.

Thou art perch'd aloft on the beetling crag. And the waves are white below, And on, with a haste that can not lag, They rush in an endless flow; Again thou hast plumed thy wing for flight, To lands beyond the sea. And away, like a spirit wreath'd in light, Thou hurriest, wild and free.

III. Lord of the boundless realm of air! In thy imperial name The hearts of the bold and ardent dare The dangerous path of fame. Beneath the shade of thy golden wings, The Roman legions bore, From the river of Egypt's cloudy springs, Their pride to the polar shore.*

For thee they fought, for thee they fell, And their oath on thee was laid: To thee the clarions rais'd their swell, And the dying warrior pray'd. Thou wert, through an age of death and fears, The image of pride and power, Till the gather'd rage of a thousand years Burst forth in one awful hour.

· V. And then, a deluge of wrath it came, And the nations shook with dread; And it swept the earth, till its fields were flame. And piled with the mingled dead. Kings were rolled in the wasteful flood, · With the low and crouching slave; And together lay in a shroud of blood,

The coward and the brave. VI.

And where was then thy fearless flight? "O'er the dark, mysterious sea, To the land that caught the setting light, The cradle of Liberty.

There on the silent and lonely shore. For ages I watch'd alone, And the world in its darkness ask'd no more Where the glorious bird had flown. VII.

But then came a bold and hardy few, And they breasted the unknown wave: I saw from afar the wandering crew, And I knew they were high and brave. I wheel'd around the welcome bark, As it sought the desolate shore, And up to heaven, like a joyous lark, My quivering pinions bore,

"And now that bold and hardy few Are a nation wide and strong; And danger and doubt I have led them through, And they worship me in song; And over their bright and glancing arms, On field, and lake, and sea, With an eye that fires and a spell that charms, I guide them to victory."

"The Roman standard was the image of an eagle. The soldiers swore by it and the loss of it was considered a disgrace. It was used as the emblam of magnanimity and fortitude.

The Presbytery Meeting Yesterday Sparring Match.

he Dissenting Members Give the Vestminster People Ten Days' Time to Pay Their Allotted Share of Church Funds.

The adjourned pro re nata meeting of the Presbytery of Los Angeles was opened yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian Church, East Los Angeles, by the Rev. R. W. Clelland, ex-moderator. After the devotional exercises, the

Rev. J. H. Stewart of Redlands took the chair, with P. D. Young, as stated clerk, and W. P. Craig as temporary clerk. For seven long hours the battle raged, hairs were split till they were no longer recognizable as hairs, and mo-tions, amendments and substitutes flew wildly and promiscuously about.

After the roll-call, the first business to be taken up was the motion to dissolve the pastoral relationship between soive the pastoral relationship between the Rev. Mr. Stoops and his church in Tustin, which was accepted. The report was then called for of the committee, consisting of Rev. R. H. Hartley, chairman; Rev. W. Thompson, secretary; Rev. J. H. Stewart, Robert Gage, and Dr. J. M. Coyner, appointed to meet Rev. B. E. Howard, Messrs. J. C. Salisbury, and Dr. J. M. Coyner, appointed to meet Rev. B. E. Howard, Messrs. J. C. Salisbury office. The report was read by Rev. W. Thompson, Mr. Howard took emphatic exception to the "imaginary version" of his reply to question No. 2, as stated by the secretary, and declared that he did not impugn the honesty of the committee at any time, but that there seemed an anxiety on the part of the secretary to put the worst face on it, and much difficulty was found in prevailing upon him to put down the exact replies. Mr. Howard asked if the words read by the secretary were exactly the words he wrote down and read back on Thursday evening. Mr. Thompson begged the question, and was unable to give a decisive answer, as he had not preserved the original papers. Mr. Hartley was positive that the report was read and recad, and the answers were such as Mr. Howard read and approved; he wished Mr. Howard recorded fairly, but deplored a motion which would put the veracity of two men against each other, and asked that the answer be raughted to formulate his answer as given to the committee. Mr. Kip asked the secretary if the report was taken in shouthand, and if the whole report was taken, and when the secretary replied negatively to each question, Mr. Kip said that it was unfair if only part had been taken, and offered a substitute to Mr. Young's motion, that the word "dishonest" be stricken out of the report.

Mr. Gordon announced that he had heard the minister read, and not once was the word dishonest used by Mr. Howard; noticing that the secretary honestly mistaken. Mr. Fife protested against any measure that would reflect on the honesty of the committee when the secretary solved in favor of sta

With a great effort the proceedings were paddled round to the original motion, to approve the report. Mr. Hartley then offered an amendment to the motion: That Mr. Howard be requested to present in writing today his answer to question No. 2, and that this answer to question No. 2, and that this answer to the taken as a substitute for that reported by the committee. Mr. Howard re-wrote the report, striking out in the sentence "I cannot even submit under protest to the presbytery, for the presbytery is dishonest" the final phrase and inserting the words "in this matter." This was ordered engrossed on the minutes.

bytery is dishonest" the final phrase and inserting the words "in this matter." This was ordered engrossed on the minutes.

A committee of three, consisting of Rev. Dr. Chichester, Messrs. Wilbur and Galbraith, to retire to take into consideration and take action upon the report of the committee meeting in Mr. Salisbury's office on Thursday evening was appointed.

A communication from that part of the First Presbyterian Church designated by the presbytery as Westminster, and signed by Judge-McKinley, chairman, and W. M. Sheldon, secretary, was read, asking that hasty action be not taken by the presbytery regarding the cutting from fellowship the First Presbyterian Church, or calling for the reaignation of the pastor or officers, and asking for a reinvestigation of the whole matter.

A committee consisting of Rev. Robert Strong, chairman, H. B. Gage, L. P. Crawford, Elders Raney and A. B. Lee, was appointed to consider this communication and thereupon retired. Then uprose a ponderous graybeard from among the Centrals, and with meant-to-be withering glares in the direction of the Times reporter, exploded in denunciation of the report of the former meeting published in that paper. He declared the proceedings to have been misrepresented and the report false. The innocent reporter had been flattering herself that her perch during the entire admirable proceedings had been serenely in the center of the top rail of that traditional fence, but thus are one's firmest beliefs so often shattered. The Rev. Boal then sprang to his feet, and, with lightning flashing from his orbs, he also objected to the report, and actually moved that the report. Mr. Howard, that action in the premises be deferred until the fail meeting of the presbytery, thus giving opportunity for the pastor and session to return to their allegiance to the presbytery. This report was signed by W. J. Chichester, H. P. Wilbuft and E. E. Galbraith.

After a prayer by Mr. Stewart the meeting adjourned till 7:30 p.m.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session the feport read by Dr. Chichester was adopted. The report of the committee of five was read by Mr. Strong, the chairman, the substance being as follows: "The committee acknowledged the receipt of the letter of the First Presbyterian Church, so-called, with thankfulness, and asserted the willingness of the presbytery to reconsider and relivestigate the case. It would meet the church more than half way to secure peace. It was evident at the beginning that two distinct churches must be the result of the division of the First church. which he remained till 4 o'clock Tues-day morning, when he died. It was a cerebral hemorrhage that caused his death, so the surgeon's autopsy re-vealed and the Coroner's jury declared. It was conclusively proved at the in-quest that Harrington, after being divorced from his wife at Kingman, Ariz., and losing his job as conductor on the Atlantic and Pacific, for get-ting drunk, came to Los Augeles Mon-day, a week ago, and went on a big on the Atlantic and Pacific, for getting drunk, came to Los Angeles Monday, a week ago, and went on a big spree. About 8 o'clock Friday evening he was seen to enter the Los Angelessivet stairway of the Chicago lodging house in a very intoxicated condition. A few moments later the madlady heard him climbing up the stairs. When near the top of the second flight she heard him fall down to the first landing. She peered down the stairway and saw him lying there, breathing heavily, as if asleep. Efforts to wake him and take him up-stairs to bed falled, so a policeman was called and the intoxicated man was sent to the police station, where he was locked up as a common drunk, until his continued hard breathing attracted the attention of the jaffer, and led to the belief that he was suffering from morphine poisoning.

He was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where the Police Surgeon his stomach. The poison theory was still adhered to, but gradually it dawned upon the dectors that there was a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. This confecture was confirmed yesterday after the man died, when Dr. F. K. Ainsworth held an autopsy. A braise was discovered on the left side of the head, and a lesion of the brain over the right ear. Pus was forming around this break in the gray matter, which und oubtedly caused the patient's death. The jury found that he died of a cerebral hemorrhage, craused by falling down stairs while intoxicated.

er Baker on Trial for Brutal

Board of Police Comm met an hour earlier than usual yester-day morning to hear the charges pre-ferred against Officer J. M. Baker, who is accused by J. L. White of conduct is accused by J. L. White of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

Mr. White's complaint set forth the allegations that officer Baker kicked and otherwise maltreated a small boy named Harry Gregg some time ago; that on May 25 he entered Mr. White's house at No. 1968½ East First street, arrayed in all the paraphernalia of a policeman, and in a loud and threatening tone, abused Mr. White and his son Leslie for an alleged offense committed by Leslie White. The officer's conduct on this occasion resulted in the prostration of Mrs. White, who suffered for several days from the effects of Mr. Baker's visit. Mr. White further complains that on May 25 he was arrested by Officer Baker and held for trial on the charge of malicious mischief, which charge was unfounded, as evidenced by the judge's dismissing the case.

A number of witnesses were intro-

A number of witnesses were intro-duced before the commission and ques-tioned by the Mayor with regard to their knowledge of the truthrulness of the charges.

The questioning developed the fact that the whole matter is the result of a neighborhood quarrel, in which Baker was interested, and in which he used his authority as an officer, to settle the same.

was interested, and in which he used his authority as an officer, to settle the same.

The case did not seem to be a very strong one against the officer and might have been dismissed had it not been that two other complaints of a like nature were preferred against him at the conclusion of the hearing of the first charge.

One of these was made by the president of the Pacific Cycle Company. E. R. Brainerd, who testified that officer Baker had arrested an employee of the company for no reasonable cause, and had acted in a very brutal and arrogant manner in making the arrest, refusing to listen to any explanation which the prisoner wished to make. The case was dismissed on the ground of unwarranted charges, when brought before the justice, and the Pacific Cycle Company laid the complaint before the Police Commission. The other complaint was of a trivial character, relative to some threats made by Officer Baker to a private citizen. Upon the motion of Commissioner Webber the officer was suspended pending a further investigation of the additional charges against him.

Commissioner Webber also made charges of negligence against officers

Commissioner Webber also made charges of negligence against Officers Hill and Davis, giving an account of a street fight witnessed by him on First street, near Main, where both officers were present, neither of them making any attempt to arrest the partipants. The matter was referred to the Chief for investigation.

The application of J. H. Bridges for a transfer of a saloon license at No. 1838 San Fernando street from Charles Kelley to himself, was referred to the Chief, as was also the application of F. Conrad for a saloon license at No. 112 Commercial street.

The saloon license of Brown and Schwickert at No. 117 East First street was revoked, it appearing that the parties had no lease of the premises, and could not secure any.

The application of C. H. Axtell to be appointed as special police officer without pay was referred to the Chief, as were also the applications of J. A. Anker, E. M. Jenkins and Thomas Riley.

Gallant Lawyers Who Think Ladies Can be Liars.

The case of Durkee vs. Wadleigh, which has been on trial in Department Three, was closed yesterday amid some rather spicy verbal battles between the attorneys. Mr. Goodrich, who represented the plaintiff, openly stated it as his belief that the defendants were just plain lars.

plain liars. In the argument for the defense, J. Marion Brooks, Esq., retorted by asserting that, as he could not call the ladies liars, he would simply state that they were mistaken, and furthermore, that Mrs. Durkee was so devoted to O. A. Wadleigh, who lives in Ventura county, that she got out an attachment to bring her "sweetheart" down here. At this Mr. Goodrich sprang up with the evident intention of inflicting a nose-flattening upon his antagonist, but both sides were sharply called down by Judge York.

Of the two Wadleighs, the one living in Ventura owns a good deal of property, while J. C. Wadleigh, who lives in Los Angeles, is but poorly off in this world's goods.

When the suit was brought by Mrs. Durkee, the Ventura Wadleigh denied all responsibility in the matter, and to get money out of the Los Angeles Wadleigh was about as hopeful a task as extracting blood from the traditional turnip. In the argument for the defense, J.

Three witnesses, Jack Andrews, C. W. This little playful fancy was bolstered up by the more practical idea of going through that same clothing with remarkable thoroughness, and removing therefrom any articles of value that might happen to be in the pockets.

PASADENA, July 2.—(Regular Cor-respondence.) At the Council meeting on Monday when Mr. Strong asked what rollef was contemplated by the projected sewer ordinance, for the re-lief of the people on the East Side, who are unable to connect their premises with the city system, he was told by Judge Weed that for some time a plan had been under consideration to afford that relief. Trustee Hamilton before his departure interested himself in the matter, and under his advice and discussion of the City Engineer made a his departure interested himself in the matter, and under his advice and direction of the City Engineer made a map of a practicable route for a sewer, and steps have been taken to secure the right-of-way for it, as some portion of it will necessarily pass through private property. An examination of the plan of the engineer shows that the rain proposed is to extend from the carner of Lake and California avenues of the latter street to Franklin, down Franklin to the rear of Trustee's Hamilton's property, thence to Moline avenues to Madisen to Alpine, west on Alpine to Eastern avenue, south on that thoroughfare to Glenarm, and west on Ginarm to Los Robles avenue. A sufficient slope for a good outfall is thus obtained, and the large and continuity growing East Side, which already comprises so much of the residence part of the city, will be accommodated. With a population increasing as rapidly in the future as it has in the past year, Pasadena's need of a good sewer system will be imperitive, the health of the community demanding the abolishing of cesspools and the even more menacing forms of nuisances which must necessarily exist where the sewer system is inadequate.

From time to time complaints have been made of the noisy devotional exer-cises of the Salvation Army at the corner of Colorado street and Fair corner of Colorado street and Fair Oaks avenue, and it is now affirmed that those meetings have become a source of danger to people happening to pass that way in vehicles or on horseback. While the sentiment of the community is and has always been in favor of any good work, and has commended again and again the carrying of the gospel to the people who are too apathetic to go where they may obtain it, it is hard to see what part a noisy bass drum, a snare drum, a brass band and tambourines innumerable have to do with legitimate worship. There is not an evening that the lives of citizens are not placed in jeopardy by these performances, for even the gentlest horses take fright at the racket, and when it is combined, as it is, with the clanging of the gong of the electric car, it becomes a source of terror to even the steadlest of the horse kind. Monday evening a four-horse team took fright at the noise made by the drums, horns and tambourines, and had it not been for the presence of mind and bravery of Officer Orr. a catastrophe would have ensued. There are plenty of open lots near enough to the business center where the Salvation Army can gather a crowd, and the nightly block and of Colorado street at Raymond avenue should be abolished.

PASADENA BREVITIES.

The Council accepted the deeds of the property donated for the widening and extension of Galena avenue, Monday afternoon, and ordered the same recorded. The improvement contemplated is the opening of that thoroughfare from Villa street to Walnut, and the straightening of the line of the street on the east side, as well as the widening five feet of the present street from Villa south. The opening of Galena ing five feet of the present street from Villa south. The opening of Galena northward to the city limits would be of vast benefit to property in that section of the city, but so far nothing decisive seems to be contemplated in that direction. The improvements on Loss Robles avenue from Walnut street to the railroad track, will begin next week.

The new city directory of Pasadena csilmates that there are about thirteen thousand inhabitants. Twenty-five churches are on the list, and fifty social, the remaining number secret organizations, mainly of the fraternal sort. Something like four hundred streets, courts and named alleys are mentioned, and those who have never before realized the fact that Pasadena is a city, may do so by cogitating over these facts.

OPPOSITION BBING MADE TO UN LIMITED SALOON LICENSES.

Petition for County Maps Presented to the Board of Supervisors-Fourth of July Aides Appointed Masquerade Ball.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 2.-(Regprivileges, and, in many cases have refused to grant a license when asked for, claiming that there were enough for all demands of the thirsty with the present number. In this they have been supported by similar action on the part of the County Board of Supervisors. A test case was made by a refused applicant applying to the Su-perior Court for a mandamus compeli-ing the issuance of the license as asked perior Court for a mandamus compelling the issuance of the license as asked for. This was decided by Judge Otis in favor of the applicant and the city took an appeal to the Supreme Court, only to have the lower court decision sustained against them. Taking legal advice the board passed an ordinance to protect them in the position they have taken, which states that license will not be granted for keeping more than two such places of business at the same time on the same side of any one block, reserving the right to reject any application when the applicant is not of good moral character and habits, or when they deem it for the welfare, good order or prosperity of the city, that the application be refused, or if the sureties are not deemed sufficient. When a license is granted it shall designate the place where the business is to be done, which may be changed by permission of the board, and similar license shall be issued to the same person, unless such license has been revoked or has ceased, and at any time after one year the board may cause the person to be notified that within ten days his license shall cease unless he put in an application as if for an original application. Upon this the board shall act in all respects as on a new application for a license, and, if not applied for within such ten days, the license to such person shall cease immediately. It will be seen from this brief resume of the main points of the ordinance which is now in force, that it confers upon the board the most liberal discretionary powers, and the opinion of the Supreme Court confirming the decision of the lower court upon this license question in no way impairs the power of the board under the new ordinance. The board has placed itself upon a solid basis where it can protect the people from the indefinite multiplication of saloons.

COUNTY MAPS.

A petition was presented to the Board of Supervisors this afternoon signed by the bankers and business men of this city asking for the publication of maps of the county to the north and east of the mountain range that will give every road and trail and the location of every well or other source of water supply from which the traveler can get a drink. They also ask that a reward be offered for the discovery or development of water that is not within fifteen miles of any known supply. If now the board will put up sign-boards at prominent points showing, where the nearest water is to be found they will save the lives of many thirsty prospectors, who often die almost within sight of water that they could reach if they knew it was there. SCHOOL APPOINTMENTS.

The Board of Education met last evening and appointed Mrs. F. B. Datey as a member of the board in place of Mr. Elliott, resigned. The board then confirmed the appointment of T. H. Kirk as principal of all the grammar schools. Mrs. Anna Pierce, who had been elected to a position in the Terrace school filed her resignation, which was accepted. Mrs. Deming was elected to fill her place at a salary of $60 a month. Mrs. Briggs of Pasadena was elected instructor in Latin in the High School, at a salary of $1000 per annum. Miss Ferris's salary was fixed at $1000. G. H. Ashley of Stockton was elected instructor in chemistry and physics, at a salary of $1000 per annum. S. G. Crowell was elected janitor of the Fatreet school, at a salary of $50. H. J. Allison was elected janitor at the High School and supervising janitor for the city, for which he will receive $85 per month. The positions of spacial instructor in music and writing were discussed, but no selection was made, and it is possible that one of the places may be abolished.

SOME PETTY THIEVERY.

For the past several weeks there has been a great deal of petty thieving going on in and around Santa Ana, and the officers have been trying to catch on to the combination, but without success until the past few days, when a quantity of the stolen property was not only discovered, but the offenders of the law themselves apprehended. They prove to be only boys and yet their crimes have been quite serious.

As yet no warrants have been issued for their arrest, but it is quite probable that steps will at once be taken to have them sent to the Reform School at Whittier. If they are not sent there they stand a good chance of getting to San Quentin, as the officers claim they have strong evidence against them of horse-stealing.

ONLY A FAMILY ROW. SOME PETTY THIEVERY.

ONLY A FAMILY ROW.

Nightwatchman Cogburn was hastily summoned Monday night at a late hour to the Lacy House on North Main street, where he was told that a man was killing his wife. The officer hurried over to the designated place and found a man up stairs in the hall in his shirt-sleeves and in quite an excited condition, pacing back and forth rather feroelously, as if he desired to annihilate somebody. When approached by the guardian of the law the man was very indifferent, stating that the trouble was only a family row and that there would be no more of it.

The other occupants of the house, however, were thoroughly frightened, and if there are any further disturbances a warrant will no doubt be issued for their arrest. The husband and wife have not yet given their names to the public, but they are of middle age and of healthy, robust appearance. The woman is a book-agent and the man peddles canes. ONLY A FAMILY ROW.

THE MEDALS CHANGE.

Co. F held its regular monthly com-pany shoot today (Tuesday) at the pany shoot today (Tuesday) at the new range out by the artificial lake on West First street. The gold medal was won by Capt. Finley on a score of 36, Sergt. Graham won the gold and sliver medal in the second class on a score of 41. The sliver trophy stands a good-chance of going to Private Burt Campbell on a 33 score. Sergt. Hannah is yet to shoot in that class, and he may succeed in capturing the prize.

A great deal of interest is being taken in these company shoots, and, as a result of the practice that is being obtained, some good shots are likely to be developed in the company.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, July 2.—(Regular Correspondence.) The board of directors of the Public Library held its second annual meeting this morning. The report of the librarian was a lengthy and interesting document, of which the following is the summary: Active members July 1, 1894, 619; additions, 343; total number of active members to date, 962; circulation, 23,520; readers, 14,627; regular periodicals on file, 27; donated periodicals (not all regular); 34; total receipts, 11754,57; disbursements, 31-406,98; balance on hand, $347,59; volumes in library July 1, 1894, 1798; additions, 715; worn out, lost, etc., 33; total number of volumes to date, 2480.

Of the number of books circulated, 73.2 per cent. were works of fiction. The average membership is about one-fifth of the population of the city. Each member has taken out on an average two volumes per month. A feature of the library since its organization has been free access to the shelves, and by granting this privilege, six books only were lost during the year. Two of these were reference books, three paper-covered novels, and one a cloth-bound book. Libraries count on losing one-fifth of 1 per cent. of the books, but with free access to the shelves the Redlands library loses but a mere trifle over the usual-per cent. Over one-third of the volumes in the library were donoted. Ten books and thirty-five periodicals have been bound, and thirty more periodicals are in the hands of the publishers to be bound. Odd nubbers of magazines to the number of 200 have been mounted besides about two hundred designs and plates from the Art Interchange.

An author list of all the books is now in the hands of the publishers, and will soon be ready for distribution.

At the rate the library is growing it will not be long before new and larger quarters will have to be secured.

POMONA. July 2.—(Regular Correspondence.) The most elaborate, unique and novel social affair that has transpired in Pomona circles for many months is that in which Mrs. George H. Hall and Mrs. S. M. Haskell entertained about sixty ladies at 5 o'clock tea this afternoon, at the home of the formar, on Piedmont staset. Dainty refreshments were seyed-and the arrangements were novel. The tables presented an attractive appearance, with covers, all different, embroidered in peppers, pink roses, yellow roses, violets, sweet peas, buttercups, or in pure white and some of drawn work, and each table having napkins and favors to match the cover. The hall was decorated with potted plants and the parlors and dining-room with palms, La France roses, hydrangeas and sweet peas. The guests were further entertained with a wocal sole by Mrs. F. Garcelon, a piano sole by Mrs. F. Garcelon, a piano sole by Mrs. S. B. Balley and a vocal sole by Mrs. A. C. Abbott. Deputies Decker and Barndollar, who have been in Pomona several days in the interest of organizing a tent of Maccabes, have now forty-two members, and will return with other dignitaries one week from tonight for the purpose of installing the following officers of Pomona Tent, No. 14, K.O.T.M.E. OCEAN PARK.

Its Season Auspiciously Opened-The Concert Monday.

The Concert Monday.

OCEAN PARK, July 2.—(Regular Correspondence.) The season of 1895 at Ocean Park opened Monday evening with the concert by Mme. Sobrino and a chorus of sixty voices from Los Angeles, under conduct of Frederick Stevenson, with instrumental numbers by Carlos Sobrino and Hans Albert. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyable and the programme one of special merit. The street railway people furnished special service for the benefit of Santa Monicans, and the Santa Fe provided a special train, which returned to Los Angeles at he close of the concert. Mme. Sobrino fairly divided honors with her husband on the plano, and Hans Albert on the violin, and each performer was treated with generous applause.

On behalf of the Y.M.C.A. Ocean Park Company it was announced that the concert opened the season of 1895, and would be followed by the College of Music for six weeks. The company, it was said, had begun in 1833 its work of inaugurating this resort, where Sunday should be observed. In that year came the panic, but the bathhouse was built nevertheless. The next year saw the strike, but the pavillon was built in spite of its effects. This year the prospects are much more favorable, and even better results are confidently looked for. A number of pretty cottages have been erected and other improvements made, and the resort is becoming better known and better appreciated. A second concert will be given in the pavillon on the evening of July 13.

Ocean Park lacks none of the natural elements for a popular and populous watering place. The pavillon and other buildings occupy a sightly spot on the sands, with the depot a minute's walk to the shore side, and the breakers no farther away on the other. There is street railway connection with Santa Monica and the Santa Fe will take care of the train service to Los Angeles and the interior. Back from the shore are groves and beautiful building sites, and the purposes of the company to here erect a summer community, where the observance of Sunday will "be a feature of th

To the Imperial Chemical Mig. Co.:
Gentlemen: So much has been said in the newspapers about the color of my hair, I deem it but just to say it is due to your imperial Hair Regenerator. I found the Court Hairdresser in London was applying it to the ladies in high social Josition, and 1 first had it applied by him, and now, during my stay in New York I have had the application renewed by you.

The result has been beyond my highest expectation. The color obtained is most beautiful, uniform, and, best of all, I find it harmiess. Your preparation has my cordial recommendation. In the there there is nothing in the world or the hele like I.
